Arkansas 35, 138, and 83 were flooded. Numerous county roads were inundated, as were some streets in Monticello. Garnett Rd. collapsed just north of Arkansas 83. Cut-Off Creek flooded.

The arrival of a cold front triggered numerous showers and thunderstorms from the afternoon of the 12th through the morning of the 13th. The front stalled for awhile, causing heavy rain to develop near the front. In a swath from west central Arkansas through the Arkansas River Valley into north central and northeast sections of the state, rainfall amounts of 3.5 to 6 inches were common, resulting in flash flooding. Some of the larger rainfall totals included 6.02 inches at Dardanelle (Yell Co.), 5.39 inches at Calamine (Sharp Co.), 5.20 at Russellville (Pope Co.), 5.10 at Mountain View (Stone Co.), 4.98 at Clinton (Van Buren Co.), 4.75 at Damascus (Van Buren Co.), 4.70 at Batesville Lock and Dam (Independence Co.), 4.15 at Center Ridge (Conway Co.), 4.00 at Hardy (Sharp Co.), 3.90 at Melbourne (Izard Co.) and Salem (Fulton Co.), 3.88 at Evening Shade (Sharp Co.), and 3.70 at Mammoth Spring (Sharp Co.).

On the 14th, a front had stalled to the southeast of Arkansas. As an area of low pressure traveled along the front, moisture was thrown back into the cold air over Arkansas. The result was light freezing rain and some sleet in parts of south central and southeast Arkansas during the morning and afternoon. Icy patches developed on roadways, primarily on elevated surfaces.

On the 15th, a front remained stalled to the southeast of Arkansas. As an area of low pressure traveled along the front, moisture was thrown back into the cold air over Arkansas. From southern Arkansas into the east central part of the state, most of the precipitation fell as freezing rain, but some sleet was mixed in at times. In a band from southwest Arkansas through the central part of the state into northeast Arkansas, sleet and snow occurred, along with some freezing rain at times. In most other places, snow occurred, occasionally mixed with sleet. The snowfall was generally in the 1 to 3 inch range, with a few spots in northern Arkansas receiving as much as 4 inches. Travel became hazardous as ice, sleet, and snow collected on many roadways. One traffic fatality occurred late on the afternoon of the 15th on U.S. 67/167 at Bald Knob (White County). Two cars were stopped on the left shoulder of the southbound lanes, and one of the motorists was standing outside his car. A motorist going northbound lost control, crossed the median and struck the man who was outside his car. The victim was a 37 year-old male. Road conditions were described as "slick/icy" in the State Police report.
